

1.1. Community Overview
Community Overview	The City of Lodi, California ("Lodi" or the "City") was incorporated as a General Law city on December 6, 1906. The City is located in the San Joaquin Valley between Stockton, 6 miles to the south, and Sacramento, 35 miles to the north, and adjacent to U.S. Highway 99. The City is located on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad and is within five miles of Interstate 5. The City population is approximately 58,950 (as of January 1, 2001) and is contained in an area of 12 square miles. The City has grown steadily since incorporation in 1906 and is projected to grow to 70,500 people by the year 2007. The City's growth is provided for in both the general plan and the City's growth control ordinance that allows an increase in population of 2% per year until the growth limits are reached. The City provides a wide range of municipal services, including public safety (police, fire and graffiti abatement), public utilities services (electric, water and sewer), transportation services (streets, flood control and transit), leisure, cultural and social services (parks and recreation, library, and community center), and general government services (management, human resources administration, financial administration, building maintenance and equipment maintenance). Lodi is built on a strong and broad based agricultural industry with national and industrial markets for its commodities and products. Wines, processed foods, nuts, fruit and milk are major commodities of the Lodi area and provide the basic material for food processing and packaging. These commodities support the operations of General Mills, and Pacific Coast Producers, three companies in the business of processing local agricultural commodities. In addition, Lodi has a wide range of small, financially sound businesses. These companies range in size from 10 to 150 employees and produce a wide variety of products, services and commodities. Recently, there has been an increase in industrial and residential development within the City. This new development, combined with the growing strength of the wine/grape industry, is a positive economic indicator for Lodi. Recently, several industries moved to Lodi. These industries collectively have created approximately 850 new jobs. To access Lodi city maps, visit the Lodi Civic Center Map Guide Room at:  http://mapguide.lodi.gov/
Economic Profile	The City of Lodi is committed to cultivating and sustaining a positive business environment. Improving the quality of commercial and industrial relations within the community is paramount to economic expansion and diversity in the Lodi community. Lodi is an ideal location for corporations and businesses wishing to relocate or expand. Several companies have recently made Lodi their home, while others have been established in the community for more than thirty years. Business success and quality of life has prompted some companies to locate their corporate offices to Lodi. In a word, the employment base and workforce is diversified in the Lodi area. Our roots are in agriculture, with Lodi serving as the heart of the premium wine category. Wine grape production is the engine that drives the economics of the Lodi-Woodbridge region. The 80,000 acres of vineyards produce annually a crop worth in excess of $300 million. Nearly 20% of California's premium wine grapes are grown in the Lodi Appellation. Truly, Lodi is the Wine Grape Capital of the World. Lodi is the #1 producing regions in California for the following varieties: Zinfandel, Cabernet Sauvignon, Sauvignon Blanc, Chardonnay and Merlot. Learn more at: www.lodiwine.com . Industry large and small is found in Lodi, including General Mills, producer of hundreds of grain-based foods including America's favorite breakfast cereals and ready to bake cakes, brownies and

	other wonderful things from the Betty Crocker Kitchen. Big "G" has been in Lodi since 1948 and has contributed mightily to our community's quality of life. The world's greatest hot dog is made in Lodi...Miller Hot Dogs relocated to Lodi in 2002. Pacific Coast Producers has its world headquarters here. They can and pack fruits and vegetables from several plants and a vast distribution complex in Lodi. Woodbridge- Robert Mondavi also produces and distributes their products from some of the world's largest wine facilities. The plastics industry is well represented in Lodi by Certainteed/Apache Plastics, and several others. Large injection molders including Schaefer Systems International, Scientific Specialties, and specialty manufacturer/molder, Quashnick Tool Corporation, all are prospering in the Lodi economy. Lodi has a vast array of general services companies from Lodi Iron Works, Holtz Rubber, Lustre-Cal Nameplate Corporation, and trailer hitch manufacturer Valley Industries and a Styrofoam container manufacturer, Dart Container. Lodi is ripe for further expansion in the high-tech area and distribution services as major interstates connect the Bay Area and Sacramento / Capital region via Lodi's outskirts. The "cornerstone" to Lodi's business success is the city-owned and operated electric utility system. The Lodi Electric Utility offers unlimited, reliable electric power at lowest possible rates. The system has over 23,000 customers, 205 miles of distribution lines and has the admiration of the entire community. www.lodielectric.com. Lodi works in conjunction with the San Joaquin Business Partnership, a progressive public-private, non-profit economic development corporation designed to recruit and assist business and industry to locate into our area. www.sjpnet.org. Lodi is home to 60,000 people and over 3,000 businesses of all sizes, kinds and varieties, and they all enjoy the special qualities that make Lodi a wonderful community to both live and work.
Population	Population (year 2003): 60,800 Males: 27,819 (48.8%), Females: 29,180 (51.2%) as of 2001.

Winegrape Industry	Premium quality winegrapes are the economic engine that drives the Lodi-Woodbridge region. About 60,000 acres of vineyards surround the Lodi community. Lodi-Woodbridge winegrape growers annually produce a crop worth more than $200 million. Nearly 40% of California's premium winegrapes are grown in this region, making it the "Winegrape Capital of the World". Lodi-Woodbridge enjoys the perfect environment for winegrape production. The region is warmed by the valley sun during the day and cooled by the Delta breezes at night. Soil rich in minerals give Lodi-Woodbridge wines their unique quality and flavor. Abundant water from nearby rivers allow for consistent quality and quantity from vintage to vintage. The Lodi-Woodbridge area has been a respected part of California's wine industry for over 100 years. Today, some of the state's most important wineries rely on grapes grown in the Lodi-Woodbridge region including Robert Mondavi, Sebastiani, Ernest &amp; Julio Gallo, Sutter Home and Glen Ellen. Grape Varieties Produced (Ranking - California State Production) <table><tr><td>Types</td><td>Ranking</td></tr><tr><td>Zinfandel</td><td>#1</td></tr><tr><td>Cabernet Sauvignon</td><td>#1</td></tr><tr><td>Sauvignon Blanc</td><td>#1</td></tr><tr><td>Merlot</td><td>#1</td></tr></table> In 1991 local growers voted to fund the Lodi-Woodbridge Winegrape Commission. With its $1,000,000 annual budget the Commission conducts programs in marketing, grower education and viticultural research. The Commission represents almost 800 winegrowers farming nearly 80,000 acres of winegrapes, and has successfully moved the Lodi region well into the 21st Century. <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Over the past ten years the acreage of winegrapes has nearly doubled while the crop value has quadrupled.</li><li>• The number of "Lodi" labeled wines has grown from only a handful in 1991 when the Commission was formed to over 100 Lodi brands today.</li><li>• The Commission has launched the industry's most successful district-wide sustainable viticultural program to reduce pesticide and herbicide use, and sustain our vineyards for generations to come.</li><li>• In 1998 partnered with the City of Lodi to co-fund and manage the Lodi Conference &amp; Visitors Bureau.</li></ul>	Types	Ranking	Zinfandel	#1	Cabernet Sauvignon	#1	Sauvignon Blanc	#1	Merlot	#1

Distance to Major Markets	LOCATION  Lodi is located 90 miles east of San Francisco and 34 miles south of Sacramento. Lodi, like all of San Joaquin County, has excellent transportation accessibility. It sits between two primary north-south highways, Hwy 99 and Interstate 5, that respectively connect major cities in San Joaquin County and provide access to major markets from Canada to Mexico. It is well connected for east-west transportation with Interstate 580 running to Oakland and the San Francisco Bay Area. Interstate 80 links Lodi to Reno, Nevada and points further east. Lodi's ground transportation includes 24 carriers and other local trucking firms serving the Lodi area. ACCESS: <table> <tr> <th>Market</th><th>Miles</th></tr> <tr> <td>Bakersfield</td><td>247</td></tr> <tr> <td>Los Angeles</td><td>347</td></tr> <tr> <td>Oakland</td><td>72</td></tr> <tr> <td>Reno</td><td>170</td></tr> <tr> <td>Sacramento</td><td>35</td></tr> <tr> <td>San Francisco</td><td>90</td></tr> <tr> <td>San Jose</td><td>90</td></tr> <tr> <td>Stockton</td><td>15</td></tr> </table>	Market	Miles	Bakersfield	247	Los Angeles	347	Oakland	72	Reno	170	Sacramento	35	San Francisco	90	San Jose	90	Stockton	15

Rail Services	Rail: Lodi is served by two national rail lines, Union Pacific Railroad and the Burlington Northern Santa Fe. It is also served by a local railroad, Central California Traction that runs contiguous to its industrial park areas. Daily passenger service via Amtrak is available from Lodi to San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento and points in between. Mainline of Southern Pacific Railway; Central California Traction Co. provides interline service with Western Pacific, Santa Fe and Southern Pacific. Amtrak passenger service.
Nearest Deepwater Ports	Port Of Stockton Physical Address: 2201 West Washington Street Stockton, CA 95203 Mailing Address: P.O. Box 2089, Stockton, CA 95201 Telephone: (209) 946-0246 Located on the Stockton Deepwater Ship Channel, 75 nautical miles (120 km) due east of the Golden Gate Bridge, the Port of Stockton, California, owns and operates a diversified and major transportation center that encompasses a 2000-acre (809 hectares) operating area. The Port has berthing space for 17 vessels, 1.1 million square feet (102,000 sq. meters) of dockside transit sheds and shipside rail trackage, 7.7 million square feet (715,000 sq. meters) of warehousing for both dry bulk and general cargoes, including steel. Each warehouse is also served by rail. Stockton's deepwater channel has an average depth of 37 feet (11 meters) at average low tide (35 feet MLLW), and an average depth at high tide of 40 feet (12 meters) - PANAMAX. Vessels in the 45,000 to 55,000 ton class, and maximum 60,000 ton class (for certain wide-beam vessels) can use the channel fully loaded. Up to 80,000 ton class vessels can transit the channel partially loaded. There is no width restriction of vessels, and ships up to 900 feet (275 meters) in length can navigate the Stockton Ship Channel. The Port is one-mile from Interstate 5, and all interconnecting major highway systems. Rail service is provided by two transcontinental railroads, Union Pacific and the Burlington Northern Santa Fe. As a fully operating Port, a fleet of 30,000 to 60,000 lb. fork lift trucks, slings, spreader bars, coil

	rams, front-end loaders, hoppers and conveyor belts and other equipment are maintained for handling and storing steel products, other general cargoes and bulk materials. The Port also offers stevedoring services to customers. The Port is well-suited and situated to handle heavy steel and project cargoes with its excellent overland transportation connections. With over 30 acres (12 hectares) of paved surfaces, we can allow easy assembly and pre-staging of this type of cargo. In addition to the three bridge-type cranes, floating cranes and mobile truck cranes are available to handle these cargoes. The bridge cranes can also unload any kind of import bulk material, and two bulk loading towers are used to load all types of export bulk material such as coal, petroleum coke, ores, clay and sulfur. The Port has installed three traveling, multi-purpose, 30-ton Bridge Cranes - one on Dock No. 3/4 and two on Dock No. 10\11. All three cranes handle dry bulk cargoes as well as containers and steel products and are equipped with 15-cubic yard grabs and container frames. Both facilities can handle cargo from vessels direct to truck, rail (one of two loop railroad tracks serves Dock 10\11), dockside storage and by conveyor General Services Include: Electric Current, Fresh Water, Ship Supplies, Truck Scales, Stevedoring, Warehouses, Customs, Security, Bunkering, Truck Service, Railroad Service, and Telephones. Source: http://www.portofstockton.com/

CDP stands for Census Designated Place.

* Monthly sub-county data are derived by multiplying current estimates of county-wide employment and unemployment by the respective employment and unemployment shares (percentages) in each sub-county area at the time of the 2000 Census. Sub-county labor force is then obtained by summing employment and unemployment, and the result is divided into unemployment to calculate the unemployment rate.

This method assumes that the rates of change in employment and unemployment, since 2000, are exactly the same in each sub-county area as at the county level (i.e., that the shares are still accurate). If this assumption is not true for a specific sub-county area, then the estimates for that area may not be representative of the current economic conditions. Since this assumption is untested, caution should be employed when using these data.

1) All unemployment rates shown are calculated on un-rounded data.

2) These data are not seasonally adjusted.

3) Census ratios used to calculate sub county labor force are based on 2000 Census data.

4) Labor force data for all geographic areas for 1990 to 2004 now reflect the March 2004 annual revision (or benchmark) and Census 2000 population controls at the state level.

Labor force data produced using older benchmarks are no longer comparable to data based on the 2004 benchmark.

These data, as well as other labor market data, are available via the Internet at <http://www.labormarketinfo.edd.ca.gov>.

1. Employment and projections contained in these tables are considered estimates (see the introduction for a full explanation of data limitations). Employment is reported by place of work and excludes self-employed persons, unpaid family workers, domestics, volunteers and those involved in labor-management trade disputes. These data are based on 1987 Standard Industrial Classifications. Annual Average industry detail may not add up to totals due to independent rounding. Government data include all civilian government employees regardless of the activities in which they are engaged.
2. March 2001 benchmark.

Electric Power	LODI ELECTRIC UTILITY The Electric Utility contributes 12% or approximately $4.2 million dollars per year to The City of Lodi's General Fund. These dollars are used for parks, police, fire and other city services. To serve customers more efficiently, for over 30 years Lodi Electric Utility has been a member of the Northern California Power Agency (NCPA), a collective comprised of utilities that own and operate their own power plants. This cooperative effort allows Lodi Electric Utility to supply customers with electricity at competitive prices. Lodi Electric Utility continues to strive to meet customer demand for reliable electric service at competitive prices. In addition, NCPA members are actively exploring future supply options while at the same time meeting the industry's highest standards.
*Monthly Electric Costs	Lodi Electric Utility is committed to local business. And that's a statement we don't take lightly. We recognize that a progressive and vibrant community depends greatly upon the fiscal health of the business community. Lodi Electric Utility offers a competitive electric utility rate schedule (please click on the 'Rates' icon for further details) for small to medium-sized businesses, as well as the large or industrial customers of Lodi. Depending upon the actual amount of energy consumed dictates the

	appropriate electric rate for your business. In addition to our competitive rates, the Lodi Electric Utility continues to maintain one of the nation's best service reliability ratings, with an outage factor of less than 1 percent during the calendar year 2003. We also take great pride in our safety record, sustaining no lost-time accidents over the past year. Another service we provide is on-site energy audits for small and medium-sized commercial customers. These audits are designed to assist customers in reducing monthly energy costs, while improving the comfort level inside their place of business. Lodi Electric Utility also offers rebates to eligible businesses, for the installation of designated and approved energy efficiency improvements. Our Electric Utility team is also actively involved with our Lodi Chamber of Commerce. Several employees serve as liaisons to the Chamber of Commerce working committees, such as the Small Business Committee, the Governmental Affairs Committee and the Lodi Industrial Group. This participation further enhances our relationship with the Lodi business community. If you would like additional information regarding our commercial rebates, rate structure, or would like to discuss any other issue pertaining to your business, please contact Rob Lechner, Manager of Customer Service and Programs, at rlechner@lodielectric.com. Website: http://www.lodielectric.com/commercial/rates.php

*Water	City Of Lodi—Public Works—Water/Wastewater Division (209-333-6706) In 2003 there were 25 wells, over 210 miles of mains, a water tower and a 1-million-gallon storage tank. Lodi delivers water to approximately 23,000 residential, commercial and industrial customers. Water rates, system expansion projects, and significant purchases are authorized by the Lodi City Council, which serves as the water utility's official regulatory body. 25 computer controlled wells, located throughout the City, provide high quality groundwater, our sole source of supply. The wells operate automatically on water pressure demand so that when water use increases, more wells come on line. A new well is planned for 2004 to keep up with water supply demands. However, the groundwater basin is being depleted. Lodi has purchased rights to some surface water in the Mokelumne River. The City is currently studying the most effective and cost efficient use of this surface water. Currently seven wells are fitted with emergency diesel-powered generators. (While these generators will help maintain water pressure during power outages, please refrain from using water during power outages to save the capacity for emergency uses, i.e., fire fighting.) The water delivered to your tap meets or is better than all federal and state water quality standards. BACTERIOLOGICAL WATER QUALITY — CHLORINATION Lodi takes over 20 samples per week from throughout Lodi's water distribution system for bacterial water quality. In 2003 the City of Lodi's drinking water met all bacteriological standards. The water may be periodically chlorinated as a proactive step to help keep the water system in compliance with strict bacteriological standards, however, Lodi's water does not normally contain chlorine. The City will make an effort to inform you in local papers before your water is chlorinated. When necessary however, the drinking water may be chlorinated before you can be informed. Recently the City of Lodi was ordered to start full time chlorination on the water system. After discussing the issue in detail with State regulators, it was found that there was a misunderstanding on the results of City bacteriological testing and the order was rescinded. The City is also following

the development of U.S. EPA draft regulations which may require that nearly every groundwater system like Lodi's chlorinate year-round.

DRINKING WATER SOURCE ASSESSMENT

"An assessment of the drinking water sources for the City of Lodi's water system was completed in February 2003. The sources are considered most vulnerable to the following activities: gas stations (current and historic), chemical/petroleum processing/storage, metal plating/finishing/fabricating, plastic/synthetics producers, dry cleaners, known contaminant plumes, sewer collection systems, fleet/truck/bus terminals, machine shops, utility stations-maintenance areas, agricultural drainage, and photo processing/printing."

A copy of the completed assessment is available at the Public Works Department, City of Lodi, 1331 South Ham Lane, Lodi, CA 95242. You may request that a copy be sent to you by contacting Frank Beeler at (209) 333-6740. A copy of the complete assessment is also available at the Department of Health Services, Drinking Water Field Operations Branch, Stockton District Office, 31 E Channel Street, Room 270, Stockton, California 95202. You may also request that a copy be sent to you by contacting Joseph O. Spano, District Engineer, at (209) 948-7696.

DOWNTOWN SOILS CLEAN-UP

The City, working with regulatory agencies in a cooperative fashion, is pursuing a resolution to a contamination problem in the north and central downtown Lodi area. While NO operating wells are out of compliance with any drinking water standards, there is PCE (Tetrachloroethylene) and TCE (Trichloroethylene) found in soils and shallow groundwater. The City continues to work towards clean-up/containment of these dry cleaning and industrial solvents through litigation and mediation with the various potentially responsible parties.

DBCP (Dibromochloropropane) UPDATE

DBCP was used by area farmers to kill nematodes in vineyards. DBCP was banned in California in 1977, but is still present in trace levels in some groundwater. The City of Lodi used 25 wells to provide drinking water in 2003. The wells are rotated so over the course of time, water being delivered is a blend from these wells. Eleven of Lodi's wells had no detectable DBCP. Six wells have filters to remove DBCP. The remaining eight meet State and Federal standards, but have trace amounts of DBCP. The result is that the people of Lodi are being served water below the DBCP level deemed safe by the U.S. EPA and the State of California.

DBCP has been shown to increase cancer nodules in rats and mice when exposed to very high levels over their lifetimes. In theory these chemicals may also increase the risk of cancer in humans. Drinking water standards are set to reduce this risk and include a safety factor for the general population and take into account the cost and practicality of removing the particular contaminant. While there are scientists who say this theory is not justifiable, there are also those who feel that the standards do not protect sub-groups, such as children.

As a counterpoint, this theoretical risk of cancer has also been applied to many chemicals that occur in everyday foods. When chemicals that are found in everyday foods are tested in the same way, some scientists have found that many foods have a greater theoretical cancer hazard than DBCP in drinking water.

For more info, see the web site: <http://potency.berkeley.edu/text/lehr.html> (to better understand, the above web site, DBCP levels in Lodi's water would have a HERP% of approximately 0.0005).

The U.S. EPA and State of California drinking water standard for DBCP has been set at 0.2 ppb to reduce the theoretical risk of cancer. This theoretical risk is based on lifetime (70 years) exposure and drinking about two quarts of water every day. The limit of 0.2 ppb equals one drop in 66,000 gallons of water. It would take over 350 years to drink 66,000 gallons of water at 2 quarts/day. Water meeting this standard is considered safe with respect to DBCP by the U.S. EPA and State of California Department of Health Services.

In 1996 the City settled a lawsuit against DBCP manufacturers, who have already paid the City for a large portion of Lodi's costs related to DBCP treatment. The DBCP manufacturers will continue to pay a large portion of the City's DBCP related costs for the settlement's 40-year life.

White Slough Water Pollution Control Facility

12751 N. Thornton Rd.

Lodi, CA 95242

(209) 333-6749

White Slough provides the City of Lodi with a means to achieve water quality standards required for the protection of the environmentally sensitive Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

Expanded in 1992, White Slough now has a capacity of 8.5 million gallons per day.

The facility has the flexibility to irrigate with domestic flow and cannery process water. In recent years, the City has also supplied recycled water to produce steam for a 49-megawatt power generator, and to replenish mosquito fish-rearing ponds. If a process upset should occur, the domestic flow can be stored in holding ponds and further treated before discharging water to the Delta.

The City utilizes a process called anaerobic digestion to convert the solids removed from the wastewater into a useful byproduct known as biosolids. This material meets federal regulations for safe use.
